Tempers rise over Compretta's remarks on Tideland's fund use

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

Since taking office, Governor Haley Barbour has clashed with the legislature on the medicare issue. Both sides have very different ideas on how to solve the problem, which has led to antipathy in the state capital.

The newest round of controversy came earlier this month after a letter signed by the Biloxi City Council was published in The Sun-Herald. The letter chastised the legislature for not going along with the governor's financial plans.

Stabbing lands 1 in jail, 1 in hospital

Investigators say cousins' argument in bar turned violent

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

An argument between two cousins landed one in jail and the other in Hancock Medical Center for treatment, following an early Thursday morning stabbing which occurred near the Brass Anchor on Highway 90 west of Waveland, Sheriff Steve Garber said Thursday.

Criminal Investigator Matt Barnett said, "Bryan M. Dulworth, 21, of Bayside Park, was arrested and charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, following some type of disagreement between he and his cousin, around 2 a.m. Thursday."

The victim was Dulworth's cousin, Patrick Nephew, 22, who received at least four stabs to his back and torso and was taken to Hancock Medical Center for treatment, Barnett said.

Barnett did say, "I spoke to several witnesses, the barroom was not involved in the incident which occurred nearby. Following interviews with witnesses, Dulworth was located and arrested. We feel the cousins met along the roadway and began to argue."

"Nephew was able to talk to me at the hospital and appeared to have been in a stable condition," Barnett said.

A weapon has not been found and the case is still under investigation. Dulworth's bond was set at $75,000, upon his booking at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility, Barnett said.

Initial responder from the sheriff's office was Deputy Mary Coster and then Sgt. Push Phillips and Lt. Jimmy Esposito.

Mobile sheriff's office seeking ID of victim

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

The Mobile County Sheriff's office is seeking the identification of a young man, whose body was discovered in a wooded area near I-10 on March, according to Christina Bowersox, public information officer. Hancock County Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt said, "We received a Be On the Look Out (BOLO) from via the National Law Enforcement Telecommunications System on March 27, trying to secure help in identifying the young victim. I myself checked several areas in the county just in case the victim may have been here before he was slain."

Phil Gilmer, owner of Gilmer's Funeral Home in Mobile, contacted The Echo on Thursday and reported, "Authorities have been trying to find the identification of the victim. His face was so battered, as it was unrecognizable. He had a full set of teeth, and estimated the victim as being between the age of late teens to early 20's."

Gilmer said his funeral home was conducting a private visitation on Thursday evening and funeral services on Friday at the Funeral Home.

The body was dumped along the side of deer bones and hides on Skyline Drive, off Exit 13 off Interstate 10.

The victim was wearing blue jeans, (tag ripped out), black leather jacket, belt (28-30"), black tee-shirt, (size small), and shirt had a graphic of the "City of Jerusalem" spelled out in English, Hebrew, and Arabic, according to information from Gilmer.

The BOLO listed victim as a white male, was discovered in a sleeping bag and rolled up in a small tent. The tent and sleeping bag had a lot of beach sand in them and smelled of salt water. The metal poles which are the framing of the tent were missing.

Death has been filed as a homicide by blunt force trauma and victim was not killed at the location where his body was found.

He was described as being 5'7" to 5'8" tall, 120 - 130 lbs., short brown hair (reddish tint), small frame, no hair on his chest, leg hair blondish brown, and had no piercing or scars.

Persons with any information about the possible identification of the victim are asked to contact the Mobile County Sheriff's Office at 251-574-4708, 251-574-3398, or 251-274-8633.

8 area stores cited in sales to minors

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

The Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force conducted and undercover operation targeting local convenience stores selling beer and cigarettes to minors, Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell and Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil report.

The chiefs report said, Agents issued eleven citations to eight stores in the Bay-Waveland area. Five of the eight stores were issued double citations for selling both beer and cigarettes to minors.

"Agents sent two minors in each store and immediately issued the citations after the purchases were made. The owners and clerks can face a fine up to $150 each and for every offense of tobacco sale to an individual under the age of 18," The chiefs added.

McNeil and Varnell added, "The stores can also face fines up to $5,000 and lose the right to sell beer and wine for up to one year."

The release did not list the establishments cited, or how many did not sell beer or cigarettes to minors.

They did say, "The Task Force hopes the effort will make an impact with the store owners and clerks."

Bay police chief warns of 'e-scams'

Bay St. Louis Police Chief said in a report last week that "we are currently handling investigations involving scams that are currently being perpetrated over e-mail and over the Internet."

In the past several weeks, McNeil said, some of these scams have made national and local news.

The scams involve e-mail from a foreign source who indicates that he/she represents a high ranking official who was recently deposed and that he/she has a large sum of money they want to transfer to your account, which they will split with you if you allow them; to transfer the money to your account.

Usually you will have to put up some money to obtain the money and this is the only real money involved.

There is no other money. Another scam involves someone trying to obtain private and personal information from you. You receive a warning, usually through your e-mail, about identity theft. The e-mail asks that you to log in and verify account information that involves your bank account number and social security number. You log in to a web site that appears and, in some cases, is legitimate; however, a pop-up window appears and all of your personal information is obtained. This allows the person to use your information to pass on to persons that make fraudulent identifications or steals checks and uses your personal information to steal your money or ruin your credit. Also, some of the scams involve unknown persons sending you what appears to be a money-order or even a cashiers or bank check and they even tell you where to take the check or money order to cash it. They expect you to cash this illegal tender and return a portion of the money to them at a post office box or through the mail or wire service. The checks and money orders are not valid and you are putting yourself in a position of possibly being charged with the crime of "False Pretense."

A great number of these scams originate via e-mail, over the Internet and, in some cases, person to person or by wire service. Under no circumstances should you give out your personal information, such as the name of your bank or bank account number, your social security number or credit card numbers, to anyone you do not know personally or with whom you deal with professionally.

The elderly should be keenly aware of persons that use a scheme that requires them to go to their bank and put up some of their money in order to split what is believed to be a larger sum of money that they have found. This is bogus and you should immediately contact your police department. You are probably dealing with professional con artists.

"Please remember, if something sounds like it is too good to be true, it usually is," McNeil said. "Ask yourself this question: Why would a total stranger pick you to share his/her good fortune; and why would he not ask a trusted friend or a family member instead."

Kiln, Bay men charged for marijuana

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

A Bay St. Louis and a Kiln resident were arrested on Thursday and charged with possession of a controlled substance, (marijuana), in addition to other charges, Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil and Waveland Chief Jimmy Varnell report.

McNeil and Varnell in a news release said, "On Thursday, Cpl. Christine Johnson initiated a traffic violation stop on Seminary Drive. Robert Gainey, 27, Washington Street, Bay St. Louis and Alton Wells, 30, of Kiln, were arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute, (marijuana)."

Following the stop, Cpl. Johnson detected an odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle as she spoke to the driver. She received consent to search the vehicle and discovered numerous bags of marijuana and the two were taken into custody, the report state.

Gainey was additionally charged with possession of a deadly weapon by a convicted felon, careless driving and disregard for traffic device. He was transported to the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility and place in a $15,750 bond, the chiefs said.

Wells was also charged with a probation violation and transported to the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility and is being held without bond, according to the report.

Both suspects have a preliminary court date on April 27 in Bay St. Louis Municipal Court, while Detective Estorff is handling the investigation.

Correction

An article titled "Hancock Considers Resort District" in the March 31, 2005 issue said that a hotel/casino project at Poinset Ave. would be allowed if new zoning to create a commercial resort district is approved. New zoning would allow a hotel at that location but casino projects will still require a zoning change for a special use district for gaming, said building official Mickey Lagasse. All casino projects will still be subject to public hearings. New zoning will not change this requirement. The hotel/casino project proposed at Poinset Ave. will still be required to go through the appeal process, said Lagasse.

Ready for Red Beans

Things are beginning to shape up for the 16th annual Cancer Society's Red Beans & Rice Cook-Off set for Monday, April 18.

Yet, there are still more entries to needed to reach a goal of 50 which has been set by CO-chairs Bay Mayor Eddie Favre, Hancock County Tax Collector/Assessor Jimmie Ladner, Jr., and Calgon Carbon's Ernie Zimmerman.

A newcomer to the event this year will be Pearl River Community College's Development Foundation, while an old timer Chuck Breath, who missed a few years, will be trying to see if he still has the touch with some 'Space Beans.'

The Cook-Off is a great benefit and for a very good cause, the American Cancer Society. On Friday there were 10 entrants in addition to several others scheduled to come in.

If you haven't as yet entered in the Cook-Off, there are five categories of competition, government, family, organization, business and restaurant. In addition to a first, second and third place trophy in each category for the Judges in addition to Peoples Choice, there is a trophy for Showmanship Award, Best Cornbread, Overall Judges Top Bean trophy and Overall Peoples Choice trophy.

For further information, contact Favre at 467-467-9092; Ladner or Sandra Hoda at 467-4425, or Zimmerman at 493-0737. It sometimes make me wonder just how some folks were able to secure a driver's license by the way they drive.

As a for instance, on Friday morning as I approached Highway 90 on Main Street, a truck had to make a left while dodging a motorist very far beyond the white line where it should have stopped.

It looked like she was not sure as to whether she was going to make a left turn or cross the highway. Well, the light changed before I approached the intersection and traffic crossed over from Blue Meadow Road and then moved both east and west on 90.

I got the green arrow to make my left turn, and since she was far beyond the proper place to stop while waiting for a signal, and had to go around the motorist.

Needless to say, after I made my turn, I could still see in my rear view mirror the motorist waiting to cross the highway, as traffic crossed from Green Meadow and once again was moving east and west on 90.

At lights with activated signals, the Mississippi Department of Transportation has a reason for placing those white lines and they are usually back a bit from the flow of traffic on the highway for reasons, such as, motorist making turns, etc. Folks who do not observe traffic signals can cause a lot of trouble and really should not be driving.

Driving tractors and paying taxes

A few years ago, Tricia and I acquired a place in the country. The land came with a barn and three old tractors. I learned what many Mississippians already know - that an old, worn tractor can burn gobs of oil. You have to add more and more oil to keep it running, at least until you have it properly overhauled. In that regard, these old tractors are a lot like our Social Security system.

Social Security is a tractor, a workhorse system pulling a big load, but it's old. It's slowly burning oil and running low. For years we've been running it harder and harder. All the while we have less and less workers to oil the machine - to pay the benefits of the growing number of retirees.

We have two choices: We can just pour in more taxes, Washington's version of oil, or we can overhaul the system so that it won't require more oil, additional taxes from you.

Liberals and conservatives alike know that Social Security needs attention. The signs are clear. The 70-year-old Social Security machine is smoking badly, giving us ample warning that it needs an overhaul. Since this machine was built in the 1930s, the worker-to-retiree ratio - or the number of workers needed to support the benefits of a single retiree - has dwindled dramatically. Where we once asked 40 workers to pay the benefits of one retiree, soon we will only have two workers to support each retiree. With every passing moment

Social Security is running hotter, using more oil, wearing more as fewer workers are there to lubricate the machine, to carry the ever-increasing load. And, what's more concerning, we're about to take this old, inefficient, heated machine and start running it harder than ever, as masses of baby boomers begin retiring in three years.

The President wants to rebuild and modify Social Security before it overheats and its internal parts fracture. He doesn't want to replace it, but restore it - to take this old but true and tested system and modernize it right, giving it a much-needed overhaul and getting it ready for all the daunting work ahead.

He wants to make it a more comfortable, user-friendly system by allowing younger workers to voluntarily take a portion of their Social Security and invest it, much like federal employees and members of Congress already can do with their retirement. This would allow younger workers' money to grow much faster, giving them a fatter retirement than what the current system would ever allow. It will give the system and the users a lot more power and capacity without adding lots of new taxes.

With new internal parts, like personal savings accounts, the Social Security machine could better handle the current workload and prepare for the one ahead. Americans already in retirement and those born before 1950 would see no benefit change. All other workers could choose, if they wish, to invest a portion of their Social Security in personal retirement accounts. There's no need to wait until the old Social Security tractor gets hot and then pour in more oil as a quick fix, a temporary patch at best.

Barbour: 5 biggest MS budget myths

Myth #1: Mississippi taxpayers don't pay enough - we need to raise taxes to fix the budget.

Tax revenue in Mississippi has increased 34% over the last 10 years, but spending has increased 50%. Tax revenue in the current fiscal year is coming in much higher than was previously estimated, and we are now told that our revenues are growing at a 5.4% rate over last year, the highest growth since 1999 - nearly $200 million more.

According to the revenue estimating committee, we will have only $120 million more in general fund revenue in the next fiscal year than we had in the current fiscal year, an increase of only 3.4%. After reviewing tax collections over the coming weeks, this may prove to be more than just a conservative estimate for the next fiscal year, but a low one.

Myth #2: If the MAEP formula is not fully-funded, taxes will have to be raised at the local level to make up the difference.

Local tax increases cannot be blamed on the level of MAEP funding. Districts have raised taxes every year as education funding has increased. Virtually the same number of districts raised taxes the one year the MAEP formula

School board should act quickly to fill vacancy

In my opinion, it is unacceptable for the Hancock County School Board not to appoint a board member to replace Larry Seals. A new member should be chosen immediately. Failure to agree will result in the needless expense of a special election, which could cost the school district close to $10,000. This is a waste of taxpayers' money, which needs to be spent on the children.

was fully funded than the years it was not. Only six districts have not raised taxes the last five years.

FY05 partial funded MAEP 81 districts raised taxes

FY04 fully funded MAEP 98 districts raised taxes

FY03 partial funded MAEP 94 districts raised taxes

FY02 partial funded MAEP 77 districts raised taxes

FY01 (no MAEP) 91 districts raised taxes

Myth #3: If the MAEP formula is not fully-funded there will be massive teacher firings across Mississippi.

The State Department of Education predicted last year that "3,000 teachers" would lose their jobs if the MAEP formula was not fully funded. Education spending increased but the MAEP formula was not fully funded and there was an increase of 450 teachers in Mississippi last year. In fact, there has been an increase of 2,000 teachers in the state over the past two years.

The Governor's budget fully funds the teacher pay raise, doubles the funding for classroom supplies, funds textbooks for the first time in years and increases classroom funding by 8.3% and MAEP funding by 4% over last year.

Myth #4: Funding for education in Mississippi is being reduced this year.

The question during this budget debate is not whether education will be cut or not, but how big an increase it is going to get. The Legislative Budget Recommendation calls for a $29 million increase and the Governor's budget calls for a $70 million increase. This year the State Department of Education has asked for a $266 million increase over last year - and only about a third of that increase is the teacher pay raise ($98 million).

Education spending has risen 46% over the last five years with virtually the same number of students. Interestingly, the State Department of Education has reported that, even if the MAEP formula is fully funded this year, their request for next year will be at least $200 million over this year, an increase of 30% in two years! 15% a year increases aren't sustainable.

Myth #5: Raising cigarette taxes is the answer for education and Medicaid.

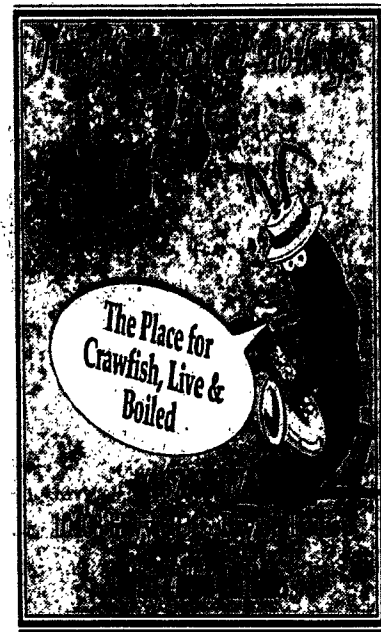

The House claims a cigarette tax hike would provide a "dedicated stream of revenue" for education and Medicaid. However, even with their very generous assessment of what a cigarette tax hike and other fee increases would produce, their budget comes up $135 million short of fully funding education and Medicaid and slashes everything else - like cutting universities and community colleges by 10% in one year.

Another question the House proposal raises is this: Is the State of Mississippi for or against people smoking? If the House wants cigarette taxes to be a key revenue stream for education and Medicaid, they need people to keep smoking to keep that revenue coming to state coffers. Any reduction in smoking would cut public schools and Medicaid benefits.

Why would we pin the funding hopes of education and Medicaid on the usage of a product we want and expect to decline? Fewer people are smoking every year in Mississippi and nationwide. This is good. But the revenue Mississippi gets from cigarette taxes has declined steadily (down 7% in the five years) - and increased taxes would expedite that decline even more. The CDC reports that every 10% increase in the cost of cigarettes will decrease consumption - and, therefore, revenue to the state - by 3% - 5%.

Barbour declares state of emergency

Governor Haley Barbour declared a state of emergency today in areas of the state that were affected by heavy rains and flooding on Thursday and today.

"The residents can rest assured that state resources have been mobilized and are ready to assist their needs due to these storms," said Governor Barbour. "We will continue to work with the local governments to ensure the safety of the impacted communities."

The state of emergency includes 19 counties: Clarke, Covington, Forrest, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Davis, Jones, Lamar, Marion, Pearl River, Perry, Simpson, Smith, Stone and Wayne, and any other areas that might be affected.

The state of emergency makes state resources available to local governments as they work to respond to this emergency situation. MEMA personnel have been deployed to damaged areas to assist local governments with more detailed damage assessments and identifying any critical needs.

Motorists should take precautions when encountering water-covered roads and never attempt to drive on flooded roadways. Floodwaters are extremely dangerous. Here are some tips you should follow to survive a flooding event:

- Get out of areas subject to flooding.
- Avoid already flooded areas.
- Do not attempt to drive through flowing water.
- If driving, be aware that the road may not be intact under floodwaters. Turn around and go another way. Never drive through flooded roadways!
- If the vehicle stalls, leave it immediately and seek higher ground. Rapidly rising water may engulf the vehicle and sweep the occupants away.
- Be especially cautious at night when it is harder to recognize flood dangers.
- Children should never play around high water or storm drains.

Lott -- tractors & taxes

Security, but neither can taxes. Pouring more oil into an old and worn tractor engine just means the tractor will burn it until it needs more. We should overhaul it so that it's better and we're not unnecessarily taxed more. If we ignore the problem and pour in a few more taxes as some are advocating, Americans of all ages would see major benefit cuts down the road. This doesn't have to be. We can properly fix this system now, ensuring it has many years of much more efficient service. Personal accounts are the first step in this overhaul.

Why do liberals so adamantly oppose this strategy even when personal savings accounts would be completely voluntary? Well, liberals have grown addicted to the easy fixes, pouring in your taxes like they were cheap off-brand oil, made for burning in any old worn tractor. Using taxes like filler oil is easy for folks who look at taxes as government money instead of your money. They say we can just leave Social Security alone. They know and freely admit that the old tractor is losing oil, but they say it's running fine. If it starts to overheat, we'll just pour in more taxes, more of your money to oil the antiquated system.

After all, taxes, like oil, are cheaper than an overhaul, and they're not buying the oil.

We all agree that Social Security is a good machine. It doesn't need replacing, but it does need serious overhaul. Let's do it now and do it right.

Boil water notice issued for Clermont Harbor area

Total Environmental Solutions Inc. issued a Boil Water Notice for people who live in the Clermont Harbor Subdivision in Hancock County. The system lost pressure due to a main line being broke. These precautions should be taken until public notice is given.
Lee Purvis, Manager of Operations for the water system, said this precautionary action is necessary whenever a public water system loses pressure for any reason.
When a distribution loses pressure, contaminants can siphon back into the system. Public health officials consider any system that has lost pressure contaminated until test of the water proven otherwise. As soon as pressure is restored to those customers affected, water system officials will begin collecting water samples for testing.
When pressure is restored, officials recommend that customers vigorously boil for one minute any water to be consumed. Users will be notified when test show the water is safe.

Tigers suffer first district loss on baseball diamond

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers suffered their first district loss in a 3-2 decision against the Vancleave Bulldogs in extra innings on Tuesday, March 29th.

The Tigers took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third inning and added another run in the top of the fourth.

The Bulldogs got on the scoreboard in the bottom of the fourth and cut the Tiger lead in half 2-1.

In the bottom of the seventh inning, the Bulldogs sent the game into extra innings when they tied the game at 2-2.

Nick Dubuisson singled home Ty Summerlin in the bottom of the eighth inning for the win. Summerlin also got the win on the mound for the Bulldogs as he allowed the Tigers one hit in the game.

Kyle Sick got a double for the Tigers in the game.

Despite the loss, Bay High still leads the Division

8-4A race with a 6-1 division record and an 8-10 overall record. Vancleave is trailing the Tigers with a 6-2 division record followed by East Central with a 5-3 record. Also on Tuesday evening, the East Central Hornets blanked the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws 3-0 in Division 8-4A action. Adam McQueen allowed only three hits by the Rocks and struck out 9.

In upcoming action this week, the Bay High Tigers will host cross-town and division rival St. Stanislaus on Tuesday evening and then travel across the Bay bridge to take on the Pirates of Pass Christian on Friday night.

St. Stanislaus will hit the road twice in the upcoming week as they head to Bay High on Tuesday and D'Iberville on Friday night.

Hancock travels to Picayune on Tuesday night and will return home the following Tuesday to host Oak Grove.

Softball game to benefit Hope Haven

It's spring and the calls of "Batter up!" signal the time for the Fifth Annual Softball Game to benefit Hope Haven. At noon on April 10, participating families from Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and surrounding areas will come together at the Community Baseball Field, on the corner of Booker and St. Francis St. in Bay St. Louis, for a day of fun, food and drink.

The event has grown over the past five years, with each year's fund raising efforts increasing the donation to Hope Haven. Organizer Wayne Korpi hopes to raise more than last year's $4,500 donation. He now has a group of helpers, known as the "Hope Haven Homers," working with him on the event.

This year, there will be an emphasis on family participation with a full schedule of activities for kids, karaoke/dj for the non-athletic, as well as the traditional adult softball game. Bar-b-que chicken dinners and chili dogs will be sold at the game.

Purchasers of a $10 T-shirt will be able to participate in the day's activities. Proceeds from food sales and T-shirts will go to benefit Hope Haven.

One dollar raffle tickets will reward winners with items from numerous community businesses and artists, including dinners from our favorite restaurants and casinos, and a number of special accommodations at casinos. Drawings will be held hourly at the game and winners do not need to be present to get their prize.

Sponsorships are also available for businesses and groups. A donation of $100 or more will result in a sign honoring the donor as a sponsor.

TOMMIE PADGETT

Mrs. Tommie Turner Padgett, age 86, died March 31, in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bobbye Ruth Maggio. Mrs. Padgett was a native of Batesville, Ms. She had made her home in Columbia, S.C. for the last sixteen years.

Mrs. Padgett is survived by her daughters Bobbye Ruth Maggio, (Mrs. Henry) of Bay St. Louis, Ms. And Linda Fay McElvain of Columbia, S.C.

What a wonderful mother we had. She never had ambitions beyond her husband, children and home. She was always able to create a pleasant home for her family in spite of the many moves with her military husband.

A faithful Christian until the end of her life. She trained her children in the way that they should go, never leaving room for any doubt that they would be loved by her. She knew that the greatest work that she would ever do would be done within the walls of her own home. She welcomed all who entered her home with true hospitality. She truly laid her life down on the altar of motherhood.

Her cooking talent was always evident when she prepared food for family and friends. Gardening was not work for her, it was her pleasure. Her faith was lived out day-to-day. Church life was always at the center of her inter-action with others. She always had time to listen to the concerns of others and some of her best advice was encouraging each one to "keep on the sunny side, always on the sunny side." She will be greatly missed by her loved ones and many friends, but all who knew her know that she is at peace in her heavenly home.

Stasny receives award

State Auditor Phil Bryant presented Dr. Kim Stasny, Superintendent of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District, a "Certificate Recognizing Achievement in Fixed Asset Management." State law requires that once each year the Office of the State Auditor send a representative to audit the fixed assets for each school district. No errors or problems were discovered in this audit.

"I don't get to deliver good news very often," Bryant said. "People don't usually like to see the auditors coming. The people at the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District have been very good stewards of their property. The taxpayers should know that their tax dollars have been well maintained. We are proud to present this award to Dr. Stasny."

Commission to decide Silver Slipper request

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Gaming Commission will decide in an April 13 meeting whether Silver Slipper Casino Venture can operate the President Casino in Biloxi until the resort's new owners start redeveloping the property.

Officials said approval would avoid putting the 700 President employees temporarily out of work. The only interruption would be a 12-hour changeover on April 15.

Silver Slipper will operate the Broadwater hotels as well as the casino. Later, the President's gambling barge will be moved to Silver Slipper's permanent site in Hancock County.

"We're 100 percent optimistic that our request will be granted," said John Ferrucci, chief operating officer of Silver Slipper. "We still have a few hurdles left. None of them in anyone's opinion are deal breakers."

The new owners have hired EDSA, an urban planning and landscape architecture firm that did design work on the Atlantis development in the Bahamas and four Disney resorts in Florida, to develop a master plan for the 240-acre President Casino Broadwater Resort property.

The new casino is likely to go on the north end of the Broadwater marina closer to U.S. 90, said Roy Anderson, one of the partners in the new ownership group. Broadwater Development LLP.

Broadwater

Development, which was the high bidder for the property in a bankruptcy auction, plans to sell the gambling barge to Silver Slipper and replace it with a bigger casino.

When Silver Slipper takes over operations, the President Casino will close at 12:01 a.m. on April 15 and then reopen at noon the same day.

The Mississippi Gaming Commission has been really cooperative," Ferrucci said. "They've really proven when they say they're professional, it's not just lip service. They've answered every question and given us all the support we needed. We couldn't be more thankful."

PERS retirees to elect new board member

The deadline is 5 p.m. Friday April 8 for retirees of the Public Employees Retirement System of Mississippi (PERS) to submit ballots in the election for a member of the PERS Board of Trustees.

Candidates in the runoff election for the Retiree Representative are Brandon residents Mr. Wayne O. Burkes and Mr. Lester C. Herrington. They were the top two votegetters among 21 candidates in the first election.

Mr. Burkes is retired Central District Highway Commissioner and a former member of the Mississippi Senate and Mississippi House of Representatives.

Mr. Herrington is retired Deputy State Tax Commissioner and a former PERS Board member.

Runoff ballots have been mailed to retirees. Any ballots that are not returned to the PERS Building at 429 Mississippi St., Jackson, MS 39201-1005 by the deadline will not be counted even if postmarked prior to the deadline.

The 10-member PERS Board includes two retirees, two state employees, one gubernatorial appointee who must be a member of the Retirement System, the State Treasurer and one representative each of public schools and community colleges, municipalities, counties and public universities.

With the exception of the gubernatorial appointee and the State Treasurer, all members are elected to staggered six-year terms by the segment of the Retirement System they represent.

community. The cost for such a project is enormous and many area residents want to know where the dollars are going - rightly so - because they will be the ones responsible for paying back loans for years to come.

In the late summer of 2000, many regulatory agencies and local officials - brought together by the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality - met to try to decide the direction their efforts should take. At that time, regulatory agencies strongly recommended that the county come together under one treatment district.

Southern Regional Wastewater Management District was the logical choice because it was already providing wastewater treatment to both Waveland and Bay St. Louis and the already sewer areas serviced by Hancock County Water and Sewer District.

The three entities joined together and invited Kiln, Pearlinton and Diamondhead to join with them. Diamondhead chose to remain independent, running its own treatment district. Bryon Griffith, then director of the Gulf of Mexico program, a branch of the Environmental Protection Agency, volunteered to help county officials make informed decisions about the direction for future treatment.

Research, overseen by Griffith, began to paint a clear picture. The most economical way to go forward with the project would be for all participating entities to share costs, based on a per-usage basis, officials determined at the time. The more treatment required, the more each entity's share would be. The benefit of all five entities agreeing would be shared according to use. Costs were to include debt service as well as operating and maintenance and administrative costs.

After months of meetings, an $82,000 study from consulting firm URS, commissioned by the Gulf of Mexico program (GMP), confirmed plans laid out in district engineer Duke Levy's 201 Facilities Plan. The plan proposed transmission lines to bring wastewater from Pearlinton and the western portion of the county and from Kiln, and the expansion of the Waveland plant.

Expansion of the Waveland plant got underway with a $1.9 million headworks that included measuring devices for flow from the two cities, Hancock County Water and Sewer District, Kiln and Pearlinton. The upgrade also included a state-of-the-art $2.3 million sludge dewatering facility that was to cut the time needed to process wastewater coming into the plant and adding treatment capacity. Cost of the upgrade totaled over $11 million. A letter dated March 2005, from the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality to Southern Regional gave approval for the sharing of wastewater services in Hancock County. This plan was never released from the funding agency.

The plan also included plans to upgrade the Kiln plant. The GMP committee estimated a total of $130,000 for the upgrade, partially funded by Southern Regional. The study released in August of 2004 concluded that rather than sending wastewater to the Waveland plant for treatment, two new treatment plants should be built to serve customers in Pearlinton and to the west, near Kiln, and to the north. The study also concluded that new digesters should be added to the plant to increase capacity.

Plans to upgrade Pearlinton and Kiln to the new headworks are plans to upgrade existing facilities to meet the needs of the new customers. The Southern Regional Board voted to fund the new collection systems in Pearlinton and a final phase for Hancock Water and Sewer District would be put on hold until plans could be finalized and treatment capacity guaranteed.

Tidelands

Earlier this week, J.P. Compretta, speaker pro temp of the house, responded to this letter, calling it "excellent advice," and said he would push to use money normally reserved for Tidelands grants to help plug holes in Medicare.

Compretta said on Thursday, however, that counties along the Gulf Coast would not be deprived of Tidelands funds after all.

This year, Compretta anticipates Hancock County will receive $850,000 in Tidelands money. $350,000 will go to Bay St. Louis; $250,000 to Waveland; $200,000 for the county, and $50,000 for Diamondhead.

While the senate is still in deadlock, Compretta said that these figures had already been agreed upon, and were unlikely to change.

"I was very proud to have secured $850,000 for my district," he said.

Mayor Eddie Favre of Bay St. Louis said that Tidelands grants had been very beneficial to the Gulf Coast over the years.

"Without it, there's a lot of things we can't do. If the legislature decided to use it for other purposes, it would definitely hurt us. I'm hoping that with their help, that will not happen. It's not a drop in the bucket (across the state), but it would hurt many things along the Gulf Coast."

Mayor Tommy Longo of Waveland said that Tidelands funds, while extremely helpful to the Gulf Coast, would be squandered if spread across the state.

"It's enabled us to do projects that without the Tidelands' funding, we wouldn't be able to do. First of all, that money is raised on the Coast. It's meant to stay here on the Coast. It's enough money to do some fantastic things on the Coast, but if it's taken away and spread around the state, it's not enough to have an impact on anything.

In the past year, the city of Pass Christian received $200,000 in Tidelands grants. Mayor Billy MacDonald said Thursday that Tidelands grants had allowed his city to make improvements without additional cost to taxpayers.

"We use those funds to make improvements in our harbor. We put in new pilings, stringers decking, (and an) electrical system. We're presently building skiff piers which will bring in more income. We're constantly using (those funds)."

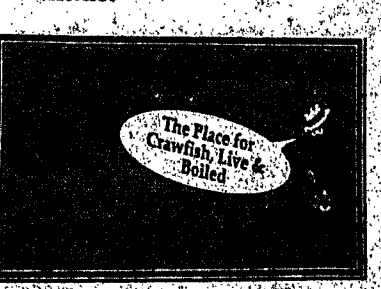

Compretta did not anticipate that the deadlock would be broken by the time the senate adjourns on Sunday. The house and senate still have many issues up in the air, including the Democratic proposal to tax cigarettes in order to help fully fund education.

A press release from the governor's office stated that it was unreasonable to "pin the funding hopes of education and Medicaid on the usage of a product we want and expect to decline."

The release added that a raise in taxes was likely to put more people off from smoking, and that any revenue generated by an increase of taxes would not come close to fully fund education or Medicaid.

Compretta, a proponent of the cigarette tax, said the revenue, along with other cuts, would go a long way toward a balanced budget.

"I totally disagree with that assertion by the governor. It would not (totally) solve our budget problems, but was an attempt to solve them with the budget cuts we made."

When April with showers
sweet with fruit
The drought of March has pierced unto the root
And bathed each vein
with liquor that has power
To generate therein and sire the flower;
When Zephyr also has,
with his sweet breath,
Quickened again, in every
holt and heath;
The tender shoots and buds, and the young sun
Into the Ram one half his course has run,
And many little birds

— Canterbury Tales
Prologue

Spring on the Mississippi Gulf Coast is not the sweet gentle presence of Chaucer's prologue. For us living on the coast, spring is a robust being coming in well-defined disorienting spurts. Of all the months, the spring months are a delightful, noisy adventure. The constant jump from spring back to winter is, to tell the truth, a little unnerving. If a day is warm is it spring or not? Can you plan on it? Can you start your garden? Put the tomato plants in too early and there is a late frost and you have to start again.

Stella's philosophy on this is simple. Go ahead, put the plants in early. If a late frost hits them, all you've lost are a few plants. But, if a frost doesn't hit, well, you have tomatoes a couple weeks early. Since I don't have much to do with the planting and yet get to eat the tomatoes, I think it's a good philosophy.

But then comes a day when you realize that spring is really here and that the cold days of winter are really gone. And with the coming of spring, the rains start. I don't mean the gentle spring rains of the "April showers bring May flowers" variety they have up in New England; I mean the heavy, one-, two-, maybe three-inch variety of rain that we have along the Gulf Coast.

The panoramic views of these rainstorms from our porch are startling. I love to sit on the porch and watch

All Fired Up

Flower beds receive a colorful boost when zinnias are included.

Southern Gardening

by Norman Winter
MSU Horticulturist

New zinnia varieties improve great series

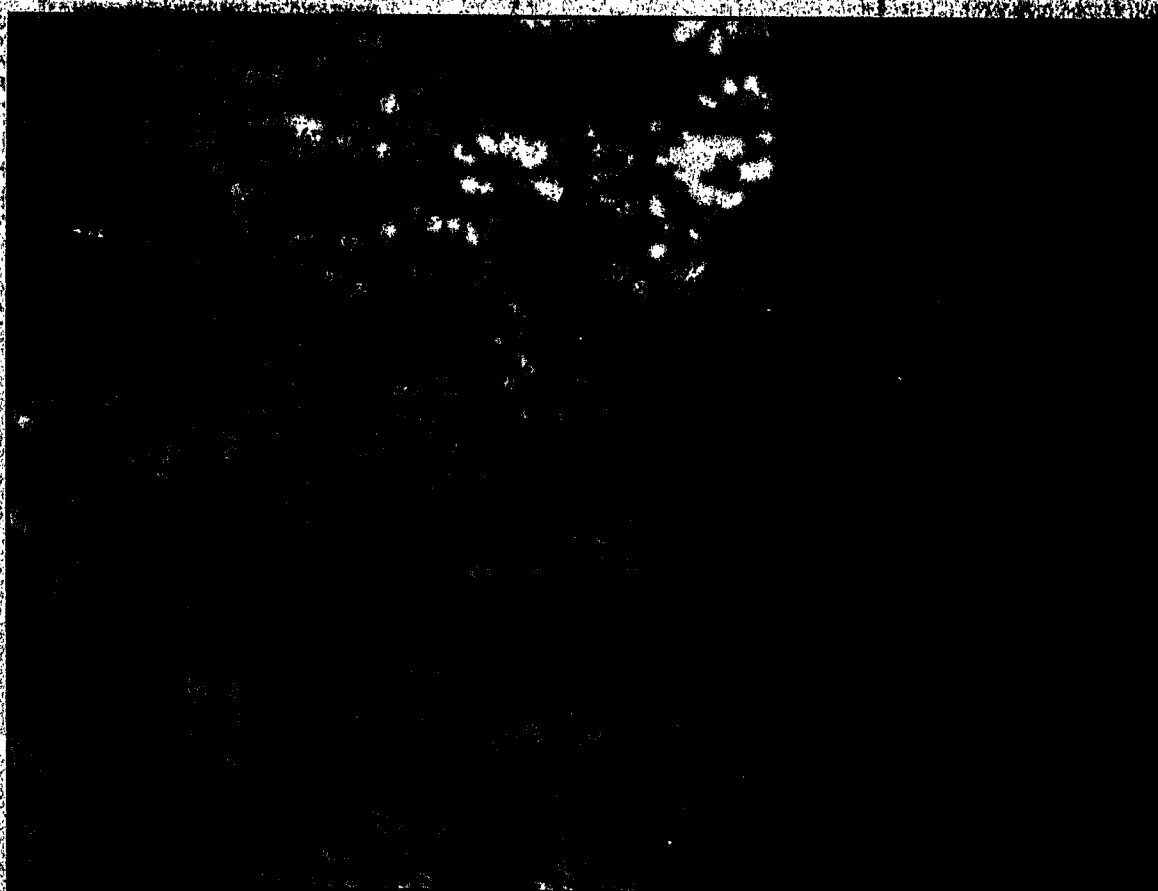

The best group of landscape zinnias is the Profusion series, just got better thanks to two new varieties: Fire and Apricot.

The Profusion series put zinnias back in the mainstream garden of America. The Cherry, Orange and White each earned the All-America Selections Gold Medal award. The Profusion series is disease-resistant and blooms from spring until frost. The Fire and Apricot varieties look to have the same superior performance.

If you thought the old Profusion Orange was hot, the Profusion Fire will blow you away with its scarlet and orange. The Apricot is light coral with a rich terra-cotta center. The plants form dense, compact mounds and are drought-tolerant. The flowers are only 2 inches wide, but they stand out like beacons when you have 50 of them on a plant.

Select a site in full sun with fertile, well-drained soil because they cannot survive wet feet. Prepare the planting area by tilling in 3 to 4 inches of organic matter along with a slow-release, 12-6-6 fertilizer.

Incorporate 2 pounds of the fertilizer per 100 square feet of planting area. Plant nursery-grown transplants at the same depth they are growing in the container, spacing 10 to 12 inches apart. Apply a layer of mulch after planting.

Feed with a light application of fertilizer one month after transplanting and every four to six weeks through the growing season. If the shape of the mound becomes less than desirable, prune lightly to generate more growth and

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) in cooperation with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District, is seeking volunteers to help plant tidal marsh plants to restore approximately 40 acres of Deer Island as part of the Deer Island marsh restoration project.

The planting will be held Saturday, April 9, at 8:30 a.m. Volunteers will meet at the Ocean Springs Harbor Boat Launch where boats will shuttle participants to Deer Island. "Deer Island is a wonderful natural asset for the Mississippi Gulf Coast providing nearshore recreation opportunities, storm protection for the mainland, and wildlife and fisheries habitat," said DMR Coastal Preserves Program Manager Jeff Clark. "However, the island has suffered severe erosion, losing more than 300 acres in the last 150 years. This tidal marsh restoration project will reclaim a significant LEADERSHIP HANCOCK COUNTY FOCUSES ON ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT - Leadership Hancock County, a program of the Hancock Chamber, recently provided a tour of GE Plastics Plant at Port Blenville Industrial Park for the 30 class participants. A day long session on economic development was hosted by the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission to provide information on economic development of the future, industrial incentives and financial packages. The class also participated in skill building sessions and learned more about the tourism industry, workforce training and the state job centers. Staff from the Port & Harbor Commission provided information on how the county's economic development commission operates. Staff from the USM Small Business Development Center provided information on services available to small businesses such as business counseling and support from other area resources. Pictured left to right are: Hancock Chamber Director, Tish Williams; Steve Seymour, Board of Supervisors; Theo van Eldik, Site General Manager of GE Plastics; Marilyn Finch of Whitney National Bank; and Chuck Benvenutti, CPA and Chairman of Partners for Stennis.

PRCC Respiratory Care class schedule changed

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Good news awaits students who enter Pearl River Community College's Respiratory Therapy program this coming fall at the Allied Health Center on the Forrest County Center.

Students will be able to complete their respiratory care course work in four consecutive semesters.

"In the past, it would take as long as six semesters to graduate," said Lee King, chairman of the Respiratory Care Technology program. "What we have done is combined the credit hours and eliminated students being off in the summer."

According to King, this does not include the prerequisites to be completed prior to the program course work. These are Algebra, English Composition I, A & P I, & II & labs, Psychology, Speech, and a humanities class.

King, who has been an instructor at PRCC for 11 years, said they have polled students who are going through the program or have been through the program.

"One of the things we found out from the poll was that kids wanted this change," he said. "They were having trouble retaining what they were learning when they were out of school over the summer months. Another thing is they were anxious to get out in the workforce. This will get them into the workforce sooner."

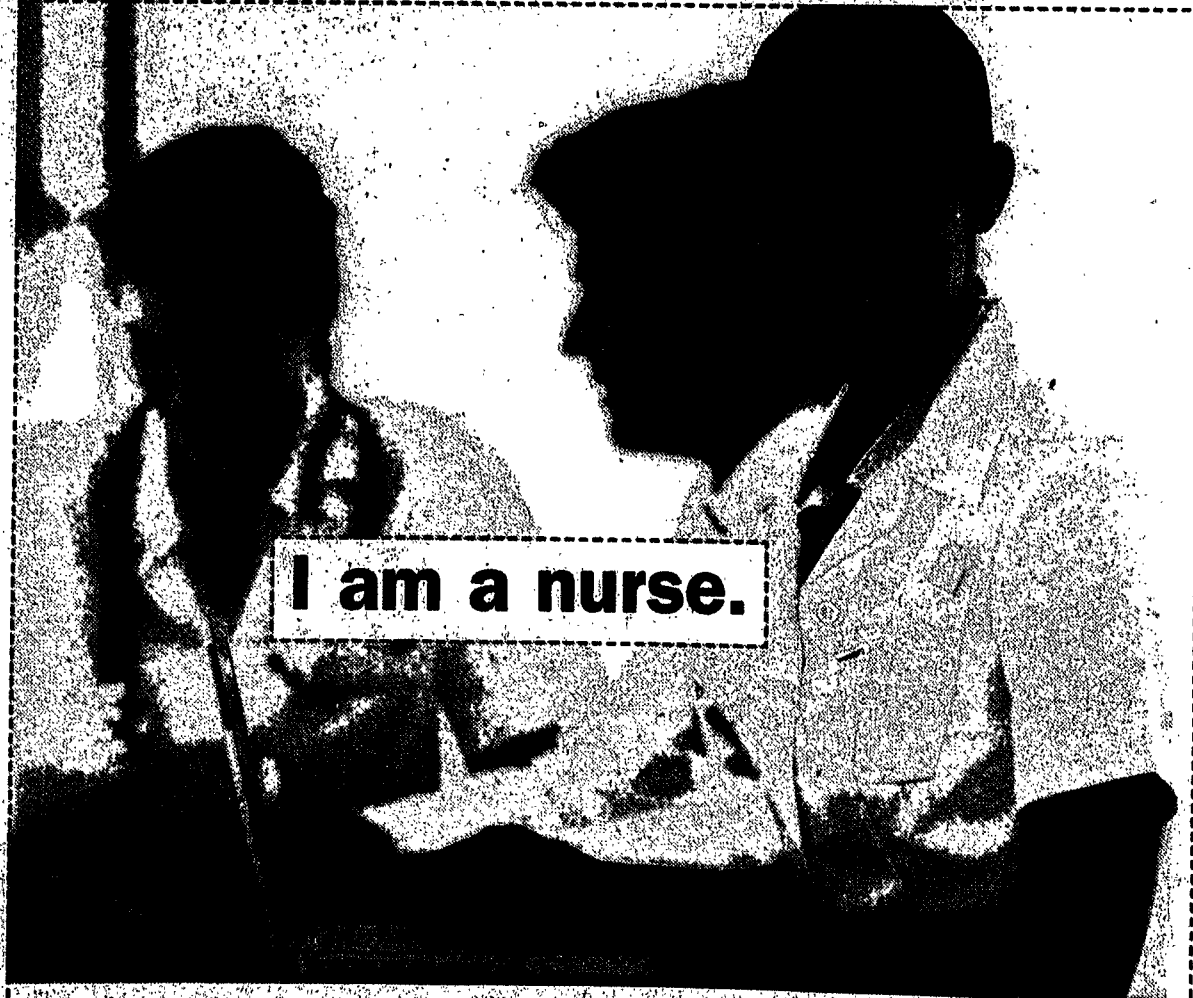

According to King, PRCC currently enrolls 20 students per year. With the change, that number could climb to 30-35 students per year.

"We will be enrolling more students each class," he said. "Right now, there is such a big demand for respiratory therapists that we can't meet the demand in that field. Our kids get recruited all over the U.S."

He said that graduates in the PRCC program can expect to make $15 to $30 per hour to start, or some opt to further their education at a university.

Classes will begin in the fall of 2005 with graduation (A.S. degree in Respiratory Therapy) at the end of fall semester 2006. The application deadline is May 1, 2005.

For more information, call (601) 554-5487 or visit room 213 in the Allied Health Center at the Forrest County Center on U.S. 49 South in Hattiesburg.

Views -- springs eternal them come, usually moving down the coast from the west, from New Orleans. You know when you see one that New Orleans has just been pounded and now we're going to get it. But no matter, the view as it comes is magnificent.

The sky is dark blue at the horizon, now lightning, distant thunder, a show of power, subdued at first, but then growling louder and louder. Wham! Wham! Wham! Closer and closer, maybe wrapping around to the back of the house and doing it's whamming with an impressive light and sound show just north of us.

And then Stella coming home and saying people are drowning in the shopping center one mile away and "can you believe that the rain stopped completely at the railway tracks just a little way up the street!"

Around me on the porch, the beach road is dry.

Or I see far across the water in front of the porch a storm moving eastward, extending majestic horizontal squall lines of dark blue power, dropping every so often feathery curtains of rain below the dark clouds, and always there is lightning and the bass, ever present, thunder, while you sit in sunlight watching the show.

Or perhaps the storm comes closer in, almost on top of me, and the lightning and thunder are almost continuous, non-stopping, on and on and on and on.

Or it comes sweeping across the water directly at us, black and menacing with its crackling lightning and thunder and wind, rolling across the water and land, curtains of opaque rain, sheets of it hitting the water making a line of flattened water to mark the advancing, hard rain.

Then it is here, and I get chased back into the house by the large, cold drops of rain that are hurled under the porch roof by strong gusts of wind. Then there is a steady fall of rain, receding rolls of thunder, and I know it is through with us and moving on to pay a visit to the people in Long Beach, Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and won't be back till tomorrow afternoon.

Fired Up -- gardening

blooming for the fall garden. The Profusion series is also outstanding as a mid-summer or fall planted crop and absolutely loves September and October.

The Profusion zinnias are 15-by-15 inches and perfect for the front of the border. Profusion Orange and Fire are outstanding with Victoria Blue salvia, Indigo Spires and Dark Knight caryopteris.

Profusion Apricot is incredible with coleus like Tilt-a-Whirl and ornamental grasses like Purple Fountain. Profusion White and Cherry excel with purple- to burgundy-leaved plants such as Purple Heart, Mississippi Summer sun coleus and Purple knight alternanthera.

While on the subject of zinnias, don't forget about the new Magellan series this spring. The Magellan Coral is an All-America Selections winner this spring, and based on the trials at the Truck Crops Experiment Station in Crystal Springs, I can tell you all of the colors look like award winners.

The Magellan zinnias produce enormous, dahlialike flowers on short, stocky plants reaching 18 inches tall so that they need no staking and will not fall over.

Leaf spotting disease was minimal, making the Magellan series an environmentally friendly performer in the Southern landscape.

The Magellan zinnias offer colorful, dahlia-like blossoms that look good grown as a mixture or in single colors. They can be planted in any style garden, from the tropical to the cottage.

Feeding will be an important part of your success with the Magellan zinnias, as it is with the Profusion series. Feed with light monthly applications of a slow-release fertilizer like a 12-6-6. Another key step is to keep your flowers dead-headed, which not only gives a tidy look but also keeps those blossoms coming.

Magellan zinnias will produce these flowers right until freezing weather arrives. Look for both the Profusion and the Magellan series at your local garden center this spring.

portion of the northeast end of the island. We hope this project will be only the first of many restoration projects for the island."

On May 24, 2002, Deer Island became part of the Mississippi Coastal Preserves Program, developed in 1992 to acquire, protect and manage Mississippi's remaining coastal wetland ecosystems. A joint program of the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources and the Mississippi Secretary of State's Office, the Coastal Preserves Program gives the highest priority to protecting Mississippi's coastal wetland habitats upon which more than 95 percent of the recreational and commercial fish taken from the Gulf of Mexico depend.

To volunteer for the April 9 planting, contact: Jenny Jacobson, of the Corps, (251) 690-2724 or Jeff Clark, DMR, (228) 374-5022 ext. 5235.

All participants will need to sign a waiver of liability form and must be physically able to board a marine vessel and work in arduous conditions. Volunteers will be supplied with rubber gloves, insect repellent and sunscreen. Bottled water will also be provided, compliments of Wal-Mart and Winn-Dixie. Additionally, volunteers may bring a lunch, water and any small planting tools.

The Deer Island Marsh Restoration Project is funded by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District, the City of Biloxi and the Department of Marine Resources. The cost of the project is approximately $1-million.

HMS BETA Club collects supplies for Hope Haven

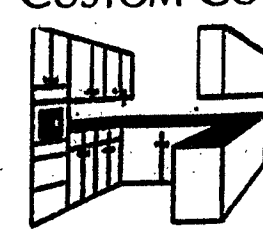

Hancock Middle School Beta Club recently organized a school-wide collection of paper and plastic products for Hope Haven Children's Shelter. The school's "RAT Team" and "Frontline Kids" were a large part of the effort and the school kids collected over $500 worth of items for the shelter for abused and neglected children.

"I can't tell you how humble and thankful I felt as I watched the school children load all of the plates, cups, towels and toilet paper in my van," commented Terry Latham, Hope Haven Director. "It is so wonderful seeing kids helping kids. The items are used at the shelter to prevent the spread of disease," continued Latham. "Many of the children who enter Hope Haven have compromised immune systems or medical conditions that we do not want spread to other children or staff. The disposable products help us keep that from happening."

For more information on Hope Haven, you can visit their web page, www.hopehaven-shelter.org. Hope Haven is a member of the United Way of South Mississippi.

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

BUSINESSES TO ATTEND WORSHIP SERVICES

By Our Habits We Are Known

Throughout our lives, we each have developed many habits, though not all habits we acquire are good ones. Quite often we develop habits that could be harmful or unpleasant to us or to those around us. Surely good eating and hygiene habits, along with exercising, are important to maintaining physical health and feeling well. Similarly, good spiritual health can be obtained by regularly attending your church or synagogue, reading the Bible and having a good prayer life. However, it is just as easy to develop sinful or bad habits as it is to develop good ones. Since we are known by habits which become part of our lives and personality, negative behaviors such as cursing, complaining, arguing or lying are just a few that should be avoided so as to not adversely affect our character. No one wants to be thought of in a negative way, so we should always try to remember that our actions and speech should reflect the goodness and love of our Heavenly Father.

Even a child shows what he is by what he does; you can tell if he is honest and good.

Please stop the Santa-bashing

First it was the jolly Fat Man who fell victim to the wildly swinging ax of the secularists. After all, Santa Claus had too much religion in his name, which derives from St. Nicholas, which is very audible in the German version, Sankt Nikolaus. Just too holy in sound. So it has to be dropped from the public expression of the tradition of Christmas.

Furthermore, for all his wanton jolliness, perennial sweet tooth, awesome appetite and impish attraction to toys and more toys, Santa Claus is inseparable from the numerous celebrations, the carols and even the deep spirituality of the festive season of Christmas.

So we see that secular, agnostic and downright evil forces are bent on having Santa Claus go the way of the public crèche, the signs touting "Merry Christmas" and all the pageantry and lore of the centuries about the mysterious birth and its message of peace.

Christmas without Santa Claus in the forefront? That is the dream and determination of every secularist who would remove every vestige of even a suggestion of religion from all public venues and themes. Ditto for the vast bulk of the media which treat believers and Christians in particular as they would lepers or victims smitten by the Black Death.

With Christmas three months behind us, those same secularists and biased media have trained their big guns on the Easter Bunny. Now who could hate an innocent bunny? Not innocent, according to them, if it is a bunny loaded with the baggage of Easter beliefs.

How, then, will Easter fare in the way of greetings? The huge push is to strip Merry Christmas down to Happy Holidays, although this betrays the secularists' ignorance of the derivation of the word holiday. Holiday, of course, was once holyday, and evolved into a slightly different spelling over a couple of centuries.

That understood, we can poke a lot of fun at the secularists by telling them "Happy Holidays!" with a public campaign of explanation of the philology of the word holiday; namely, that it actually means holyday, just as Halloween means All Hallows Eve.

Now, applying that to Easter may prove to be a bit of a task. Naturally, "Happy Easter" is out of the question. But, following the lead of the secularists, we could adopt a generic term from Christmas, and say "Happy Holidays!" again with linguistic explanations.

If we go generic for both Christmas and Easter, always accompanied by a blitz of word and term philology, we will come out ahead in strength of expression, overriding the evil intent and scorn of the secularists. Thus, we will turn their attack into a compliment.

This could turn out to be a great propaganda coup, converting their disdain for us believers into our own scorn for their ignorance of culture and philology. And, should they attempt to retract the term "Happy Holidays!" we will not allow them to. After all, it was their suggestion in the first place. So, holidays and holydays will be equals forever.

Now there is that matter of the Easter Bunny. It's that word Easter again, of course. The secularists want to obliterate the term Easter, leaving us stuck with the word bunny.

So, are they going to say, "Holiday Bunny!" or will it be just bunny without any kind of attachment? Holiday Bunny would be back into the Holiday linguistic thing again.

As the children poke fun in their little jokes, perhaps it will be "Hoppy Bunny!" or maybe "Hoppy Spring Celebration!" A silly joke is certainly better by far than the dolorous, somber prospects presented by humorless, joyless secularists.

No doubt, militant atheists, agnostics and secularists would experience the greatest satisfaction if Christmas would revert to the Roman feast of The Unconquered Sun and Easter to the Norse festival of spring, celebrating nature's resurrection from winter by the symbols of fertile rabbits and eggs colored like the sun rays and the aurora borealis.

Thus, by turning a few pages back into what once was many centuries ago among the ancient Romans and the Norse, secularists are presenting to the world their vision of modern progressiveness. Is this another "Back into the Future" venture of sorts?

Still, all this is very superficial. Despite all the fun we can have laughing at the expense of the clawing, bitter secularists, there remains the deeper, the radical reason why all this is taking place. Plagued by their personal doubts, disbelief and disconnect with God, the secularists are displaying ultimate futility by fighting the Hound of Heaven himself.

So brilliantly depicted by the poet Francis Thompson, the Hound of Heaven never abandons the chase of any human being whether believer, doubter, unbeliever or flat out scoffer. In spite of themselves, the secularist crew sense they are being pursued hotly by the very One whose symbols and celebrations they go all out to sabotage.

Worst of all, much more than Christmas, Easter flies full in the face of all the things secularists are set on sloughing from their lives and their very being. Transcendent and supernatural, the events of Easter Sunday throw the ultimate challenge at unbelievers.

There is that Good Friday matter of a man battered savagely by Roman soldiers at the behest of the leaders of his own people, crucified and buried in a borrowed tomb. At the crack of dawn on that Sunday, the man mysteriously got out of that grave, while lying soldiers claimed his followers had stolen his body. While the lying witnesses slept?

It would seem the secularists are having problems similar to those of the armed guard watching over the tomb of Jesus. They, too, are trying to be witnesses, even though they are as fully asleep as the soldiers. Little do they realize, and would never admit, that they are giving great notoriety to the resurrection of Jesus by trying so hard to suppress it.

Thank God for the jolly Fat Man who manages to spark Christmas interest in everyone from 1 to 92.

Thank God for the Easter Bunny who makes kids and all of us hoppy by reigniting the perennial hope and beauty of spring. Above all, thank God for the Master of life and death who became our Messiah, our risen Savior and Key to eternal life.

Reflections on Life

Halloween means All Hallows Eve.

Now, applying that to Easter may prove to be a bit of a task. Naturally, "Happy Easter" is out of the question. But, following the lead of the secularists, we could adopt a generic term from Christmas, and say "Happy Holidays!" again with linguistic explanations.

If we go generic for both Christmas and Easter, always accompanied by a blitz of word and term philology, we will come out ahead in strength of expression, overriding the evil intent and scorn of the secularists. Thus, we will turn their attack into a compliment.

This could turn out to be a great propaganda coup, converting their disdain for us believers into our own scorn for their ignorance of culture and philology. And, should they attempt to retract the term "Happy Holidays!" we will not allow them to. After all, it was

Scripture Says

By Ed Young

Jesus died for our sins

Matthew, Chapter 27, Verse 27, "Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the praetorium, and they gathered the whole battalion before him. And they stripped him and put a scarlet robe upon him, and plaiting a crown of thorns, they put it on his head, and put a reed in his right hand, and kneeling before him they mocked him, saying 'Hail, King of the Jews!' And they spat upon him, and took the reed and struck him on the head."

Jesus was standing there taking this ridicule and beating for you and for me. You see, this is where we would have been standing someday, but Jesus took our place, out of his great love for us.

Verse 45, "Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, 'Eli, Eli, la ma sa bach tha ni?' That is, 'My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?'"

This is when God laid all the sins of the world on Him; for Jesus did not cry "My father, my father!" but "My God, my God!" The man Jesus was taking our place on that terrible cross.

Verse 50, "And Jesus cried again with a loud voice and yielded up his spirit."

Now for the disciples and the people who were there, it was all over - the Nazarene was dead. By this time, Satan had all his army of demons lined up in hell to hail him - still ruler of the death and the world.

But their jubilation was short lived; for through the corridors of hell came a brilliant light - the Lion of Judah, the Lord Jesus. Jesus took the spiritual Keys of Hell away from Satan forever; now Jesus is the judge of life and death, and of who will live eternally with him.

Chapter 28, Verse 18 - In this verse, Jesus returned to his disciples and he said: "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations."

A direct command from the risen Christ - "make disciples of all nations." And the first step in obeying that command is to let him make disciples of us. Our judge has served our sentence; the glorious example of his resurrection gives us the courage to not let him have suffered in vain.

The Word for the Week

It has been said history is His story, God's story. Putting it another way, history is the story of how God is working out His plans and purposes in the world. Despite all the seeming chaos in our world, God is in control and God's plan is in effect. God's plan involves the restoring of this world and the perfecting of a people through the work of Jesus Christ. When Adam and Eve rebelled against God by disobeying His commandments, suffering and the death entered the world. Then God promised a Savior. God repeated His promise to Noah, to Abraham and his sons, and to David and Solomon. Finally, "When the fullness of time came, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under the Law" (Galatians 4:4). This promised Savior went to the cross to pay the ultimate penalty for the sins of others. He then rose again from the grave and ascended into heaven where He reigns as "both Lord and Christ" (Acts 2:36). When Christ comes again, He will cleanse this world from the ravages of sin, and He will glorify His people.

This is God's plan outlined in the Bible. All the facts of history are details of this plan. God's plan brings meaning to the seeming chaos of world history. Trusting God's plan brings order to the chaos in our lives.

The Humane Society is in the throws of planning its 4th Annual Paws in the Pass event at the War Memorial Park in Pass Christian. This is one event the whole family can enjoy, including your four legged "Best Friends."

The event begins at 10 a.m. and will have food vendors, such as Blow Fly Inn and Domino's Pizza, games such as Bobbin for Weiners, Biscuit Toss and Fun contests for all including the Best Trick and Owner Look A Likes. There are great prizes for the people that have registered and their companions.

Plus the top participants will be on the court for next year's "Pawrade."

The fun will drum up as the band begins at 10 a.m., so grab your pets and their best outfits, and come Pass A Good Time at the Paws in the Pass on April 16, 2005.

Sunday

7 a.m. on HBO
Movie: Black Beauty

Alan Cumming provides the voice of the beautiful horse from author Anna Sewall's novel in this 1994 rendition. Andrew Knott stars as Joe, the boy who loves and cares for Black before the horse is sold. Black Beauty's long and painful journey through abusive owners culminates in his return to an adult Joe. (Ian Kelsey). Sean Bean, David Thewlis, Peter Cook and Lyndon Davies co-star.

Wednesday

8 p.m. on 19-PBS
Great Performances

Based on the popular novel by Antoine de Saint-Exuprey, this new musical version of "The Little Prince" stars young Joseph McManners as a boy who meets a pilot in the Sahara. Baritone Teddy Tahu Rhodes plays the crash-landed aviator, Mailead Carlin stars as The Rose, and David Charles Abell conducts. Rachel Portman ("Mona Lisa Smile," "Hart's War") composed the score.

Friday

9:30 a.m. on HBO
Movie: Waking Ned Devine

Nosey neighbors take on new meaning in this acclaimed 1998 comedy. Lucky Ned Devine (Jimmy Keogh) has won the lottery. Unfortunately, the shock was too much and the poor man let slip his mortal coil. So the small Irish town bands together to get the money by pretending the deceased Ned is still kicking his heels. Things don't go quite as planned and everyone has to do some quick maneuvering to keep the cash.

Saturday

11:15 a.m. and TBS

Movie: Back to the Future Part II

This 1989 effort does have its merits, especially in its creative use of footage from the original 1985 "Back to the Future" film, and the familiar face of star Michael J. Fox. The plot brings Marty (Fox) into the early 21st century. Christopher Lloyd and Lea Thompson also reprise their roles from the first film.

In Focus

The animated spy girl gets another shot at the big time as Christy Carlson Romano continues to voice the title character in "Kim Possible: So the Drama," a new, feature-length Disney Channel adventure Friday, April 8.

Kim must deal with a crisis that has nothing to do with world domination, since her best friend, Ron Stoppable (voice of Will Friedle), isn't at all happy with Kim's interest in a new student. Jealousy must be put aside, though, when villain Drakken hatches a new scheme.

A legendary actor who defined the term "swashbuckler" during his screen career is recalled in the new Turner Classic Movies documentary "The Adventures of Errol Flynn" Tuesday, April 5.

Recently played by Jude Law in "The Aviator," Flynn made his mark in classics such as "Captain Blood" and "The Charge of the Light Brigade." Olivia de Havilland, Flynn's leading lady in those two films and "The Adventures of Robin Hood," is among those who comment on his life and times.

TV Trivia

Jason Issacs ("The Patriot") aimed for a career in law but ended up studying at London's Central School of Speech and Drama.

Mika Boorem ("Blue Crush") starting acting at age 6 and was nominated for two Young Artist Awards.

Donal Logue ("American Splendor") was born in Canada but attended Harvard University and London's British-American Drama Academy.

Tom Wilkinson ("Girl With a Pearl Earring") was nominated for an Emmy and a Golden Globe for his performance in HBO's "Normal."

Heath Ledger ("A Knight's Tale") was born in Perth, Australia, and attended an all-boys grammar school.

The King of Queens

In the new episode "Van, Go," Carrie (Leah Remini) offers to help Holly (Nicole Sullivan) decorate her van. There's one catch: Holly needs to give her a ride to the store for supplies. Holly is not happy to discover that Carrie was only using her to get access to the van for her own purposes. Doug (Kevin James) lives to regret complaining to a diminutive waitress, who apparently attended the Carla Tortelli School of Customer Service.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The West Wing

President Bartlet (Martin Sheen) faces a tough decision in the season finale "2162 Votes." Does he send the astronaut trapped aboard the space station? If he doesn't, they'll die, but if he does, national security will be compromised. As he wrestles with this dilemma, the field of Democrats vying for the chance to replace him narrows. Jimmy Smits, Gary Cole and Tim Matheson also star.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

Kevin Hill

Kevin (Taye Diggs) doesn't like what he's hearing about his law-school idol, whom he's representing in a sexual-harassment suit brought by a female student, Veronica (Kate Levering), takes on an old boyfriend as a client, giving Dame (Jon Seda) pangs of jealousy. An attractive woman catches Kevin's eye, but he can't get past the fact that she's George's (Patrick "Green" Green) ex-flame. Michael Michele also stars in "Man's Best Friend."

8:01 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Alias

While putting their careers — and maybe their lives — in jeopardy with their quest for answers about Vaughn's father, Sydney and Vaughn (Jennifer Garner, Michael Vartan) find themselves the possible targets of a conspiracy involving Jack and Sloane (Victor Garber, Ron Rifkin). Jack faces a life-changing decision that will also affect Sydney in the new episode "Nightgale."

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: NY

In "Blood, Sweat & Tears," the body of a teenage circus contortionist is found stuffed into a small box. Mac and Stella (Gary Sinise, Melina Kanakaredes) question the victim's relatives and their rivals — a family of trapeze artists whose daughter was in love with the dead youth. Danny and Flack (Carmines, Glovinnazzo, Eddie Cahill) investigate the slaying of a young woman who was hiding out from her abusive husband.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

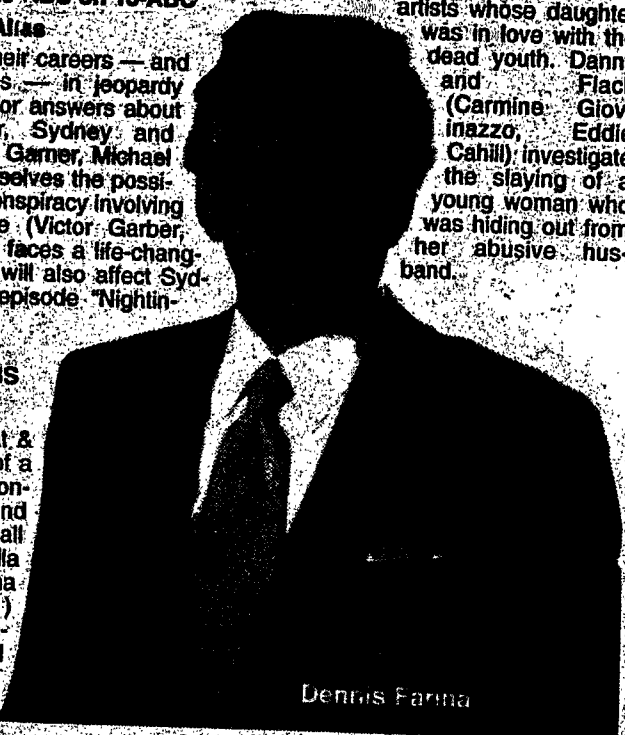

Law & Order

Fontana and Green (Dennis Farina, Jesse L. Martin) finger a crooked developer (guest star Zeljko Ivanek) in the murder of Connecticut's first lady. The governor (guest star Robin Thomas) resigns when his affair with the man is revealed. The prosecution's case rests on another man (guest star Jeremy Webb) who won't testify because he claims to be married to the defendant, forcing McCoy to seek a court ruling on gay marriage in "Gov Love."

9:02 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Eyes

Brian McNamara ("The O.C.") guest stars as Dr. Brad Harper, an old college friend of Harlan's (Tim Daly), in the new episode "Whereabouts." Brad asks Harlan to help rescue his girlfriend from kidnappers, but Harlan suspects she's fallen victim to foul play. A man is unjustly accused of armed robbery, and Leslie (Laura Leighton) tries to find a witness whose testimony could set him free.

Jake in Progress

Naomi (Wendie Malick) wants Jake (John Stamos) to throw her a "surprise" birthday party in an effort to give her a kinder, gentler image. Ian Gomez and Rick Hoffman also star in the new episode "Happy Birthday."

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Declaring it a scam designed to sell cards, Grace (Debra Messing) vows to ignore Valentine's Day... until she meets a hunk (guest star Ed Burns) who turns out to be a greeting-card writer. Karen (Megan Mullally) rebuffs Scott (Jeff Goldblum) for an Internet date in "Dance Cards and Greeting Cards."

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

CSI: Crime Scene Investigation

In "Ch-Ch-Changes," the investigators probe the murder of a woman who used to be a man. Her throat was slashed, and she was sexually assaulted, so they suspect her fiancé might have killed her in a rage after discovering she was transgender. The truth, however, turns out to be much more sinister, as the discovery of another body leads them to a doctor with multiple secrets. William B. Davis and Marg Helgenberger star.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

Without a Trace

Tony Goldwyn reprises the roles of twins Rick and Greg Knowles in "Doppelgänger Part 2." Fans of the series will remember Rick as the man who got his twin brother to confess to killing several homeless women. When a woman disappears from a shelter with a connection to that case, Jack (Anthony LaPaglia) suspects that Rick may be up to his old tricks.

In Focus

The show will go on for only one Hollywood hopeful as Oscar winner Faye Dunaway and other judges make their ultimate decision on the season finale of "The Starlet" Tuesday, April 5, on The WB Network. Fellow actress Vivica A. Fox and casting director Joseph Middleton also are in on the pronouncement, as one of the last aspiring actresses standing (or standing here, anyway) gets a professional opportunity to pursue her dream — which will entail an appearance on another WB series, "One Tree Hill."

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Cops

A certain drug dealer in Ohio apparently didn't get the word that the only Coke that should be taken by mouth is a soft drink. Police suspect he ate a quarter-ounce of crack cocaine when he felt them closing in on him during a sting. This new "Coast to Coast" episode also features a high-speed chase in Washington state and an encounter with truck strippers in Texas.

7 p.m. on 25-ABC on 13-ABC

Laura Ingalls Wilder's Little House on the Prairie

In "Part 3," Pa (Cameron Bancroft) finds out that bartering is not as easy as it looks. Laura (Kylie Chavante) is fascinated by the family's Indian neighbors. Fire threatens the Ingalls homestead but fails to ruin a memorable Christmas. Erin Cottrell and Danielle Ryan Chuchran also star.

7:30 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Breakin' All the Rules

The title of this 2004 romantic comedy is a shout-out to the best-selling book "The Rules," a how-to guide for women seeking love. Jamie Foxx stars as a man who, after getting dumped, writes a book on how to end a romance. Mistaken-identity issues arise when his boss and his cousin (Peter MacNicol, Morris Chestnut) seek his help with their relationships. Gabrielle Union, Jennifer Esposito and Bianca Lawson also star.

8 p.m. on 25-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: About a Boy

Hugh Grant abandons his stammer and smirky mannerisms to deliver a memorable performance as an irresponsible bachelor who learns maturity and compassion through his friendship with a lonely boy (Nicholas Hoult) in this sensitive 2002 adaptation of Nick Hornby's popular novel. Toni Collette and Rachel Weisz co-star in the film, which received an Oscar nomination for its screenplay.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: Miami

A police officer is murdered during a routine traffic stop, and the only witness — a civilian who was riding along — is missing. The investigators' analysis of evidence at the side of the road leads them to a teenage girl (guest star Kristen Storms) who may know more about the case than she's letting on. A dispute over a case causes problems in Horatio and Rebecca's (David Caruso, Christina Chang) relationship in "Cop Killer."

9 p.m. on HBO

Whoopi: Back to Broadway — The 20th Anniversary

Whoopi Goldberg returns to the milieu that launched her career 20 years ago — the one-woman show. In this new special, she revises some characters from 1984, including Junkie, Fontaine, who has traded heroin for pills and politics. New ones include an earthy Southern and a self-help guru with a "Law & Order" fixation. She shines brightest in a poignant re-creation of another old friend, known only as the "handicapped woman."
